Greetings

from the President

"How good and pleasant it is when God's people live together in unity!" (Psalms 133:1, NIV)

Dear Members of the Black Presbyterian Community,

We are thrilled to welcome you to The Gathering of Black Presbyterians, sponsored by the 47th Biennial Conference of the National Black Presbyterian Caucus. As the scripture from Psalm 133:1 reminds us, the power of unity is something exceptional that we can all cherish together. During this reimagining time, this year's theme, "The Black Family in the Presbyterian Church USA: Navigating Identity, Equity, and Economics," encourages community cohesion and empowers congregations to reach new heights. We feel privileged to host Black Presbyterians from all ten regions to celebrate in fellowship and worship and share insights on growing African American congregations.

Our itinerary includes vital administrative activities, such as required reports and officer elections. But we will also have access to enjoyable and uplifting worship sessions, networking opportunities, and alluring cuisines. Furthermore, we will present eight essential tools for maximizing church growth and implementing programs that promote spiritual development.

Our dedication to investing in contemporary youth and young adult ministries motivated us to develop programmatic activities and encourage quality time for these members of our community.

On another note, attendees are also welcome to explore historic Charleston or Sea Island, depending on their preferences. We are confident that this experience will be unforgettable, filled with fellowship, and enable us to work together toward a brighter future for our congregations for years to come.

Best regards,

Charles C. Heyward, Sr., President
National Black Presbyterian Caucus

NOMINATION FOR 2023
DRUM MAJOR FOR JUSTICE AWARD

I nominate _____

Your name _____

Address _____ State _____ Zip _____

Phone No. _____ Email _____

One DRUM MAJOR FOR JUSTICE award will be granted at the 2023 NBPC Biennial Conference in Charleston, South Carolina.

The person you nominate must agree to have their name placed in the nomination. Please submit one page describing your reasons for making the nomination, a photo, and contact information for the person you are nominating. The nominees will be notified by May 26, 2023, and are expected to be present at the Conference.

Nominees are expected to have demonstrated similar character, exceptional achievements, and leadership style reflected in the following description:

DRUM MAJOR FOR JUSTICE AWARD

"...let justice roll on like a river, righteousness like a never falling stream." Amos 5:24 (NIV)

The Drum Major for Justice Award recognizes an individual who has passionately committed to the biblical principles of justice by consistently and unselfishly pursuing that utopian reality of "liberty, justice, and equality for all of God's people." Amid adversity and potential risk, they have displayed admirable courage and strength, never failing to lift a prophetic voice that speaks truth to power.

Their leadership style and fundamental interactions reflect the Christian ethic found in Micah 6:8 ... "to do justice, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God." They have reached out with love and compassion to change lives positively, mend brokenness, repair relationships, and inspire hope.

One EDLER G. HAWKINS AWARD will be granted at the 2023 NBPC Biennial Conference in Charleston, South Carolina.

The person you nominate must agree to have their name placed in the nomination. Please submit one page describing your reasons for making the nomination; a photo, and contact information for the person you are nominating. The nominees will be notified by May 26, 2023, and are expected to be present at the Conference.

Nominees are expected to have demonstrated similar character and exceptional, distinguishing achievements reflected in the following biographical sketch of Edler G. Hawkins.

EDLER G. HAWKINS

Edler G. Hawkins was a trailblazer in the truest sense of the word. In 1964, he became the first black person elected to the position of Moderator. This achievement was due to his fierce loyalty to Presbyterianism: a loyalty that prompted him to prove that Blacks are an integral part of the United Presbyterian Church. He sought to establish that Blacks, with enough persistence and sheer audacity, could successfully ascend to the highest office within the denomination. Because of his performance, he raised the consciousness of the denomination to the existence, the abilities, and the inherent rights of its minorities, blacks, as perhaps no other events in the previous history of the Church. He was a stellar role model and a proponent of faith in oneself and holding steadfast to that faith until what one believes is accepted by others; and, therefore, becomes manifest. He sought no excuses or rationalizations for conceding the possibility of second-rate Black church membership. Firmly convinced of who and what we are, he held fast, unruffled by circumstances, unmoved by apparent defeat, until through sheer perseverance, he achieved complete vindication in victory. A veritable Rock of Gibraltar - he was firm, quiet, deceptively strong, and immovable in purpose.

NOMINATION FOR THE 2023
INNOVATION IN MINISTRY AWARD

I nominate _____

Your name _____

Address _____ State _____ Zip _____

Phone No. _____ Email _____

One INNOVATION IN MINISTRY award will be granted at the 2023 NBPC Biennial Conference in Charleston, South Carolina.

The person you nominate must agree to have their name placed in the nomination. Please submit one page describing your reasons for making the nomination, a photo, and contact information for the person you are nominating. The nominees will be notified by May 26, 2023, and are expected to be present at the Conference.

Nominees are expected to have demonstrated similar character, exceptional achievements, and leadership style reflected in the following description:

INNOVATION IN MINISTRY

The Innovation in Ministry Award acknowledges an individual who approaches ministry with a curious mind, a true heart, and visionary eyes. Such a person witnesses God's amazing grace through creative, innovative, fresh, and inspiring churches while meeting real human needs. Individuals with such gifts are rare. They listen to the voice of the Spirit despite surrounding echoes of "we've never done it this way before." In response to "Why?" questions, their answer is a simple "Why Not?" Innovators in ministry lead by example, reflecting a caring heart, imagination, persistence, and faithfulness to a Savior who continues "...to make all things new" (Rev. 21:5).

Maria Fearing (1838-1937)

Age was no restriction for Maria Fearing! After the end of slavery, at age 33, she worked her way through the Freedman's Bureau School, learning not only how to read and write but also how to teach. Determined to be a missionary, the Presbyterian Church finally commissioned Maria at 56 to the Congo. For over 20 years, she served as a Presbyterian missionary and established the Pantops Home for Girls in 1915. Although she was encouraged to retire at the age of 78 from the mission field, upon returning to Alabama, she taught at a church school in Selma. Having lived a long and productive life of making a positive difference in the lives of others, she transitioned from the Church Militant to the Church Triumphant at age 99.

The Maria Fearing Award

The Maria Fearing Award recognizes individuals who stare insurmountable odds in the face and garner the courage to pursue what seems to be an impossible dream. They maintain a positive outlook when faced with a difficult problem or negative predicament. Motivated by the curiosity to try new things, they aim for the stars. While others declare what they cannot do, they respond by doing it anyway. They overcome major life challenges to achieve their life goals.

Blossom with us!

THE NATIONAL BLACK PRESBYTERIAN CAUCUS Needs you!

We invite all Presbyterian's who have an interest in answering the call for equality and becoming stronger together.

Please partner with NBPC to respond to the needs of our African American churches and members in ways that help all Black Presbyterian's. By answering the call, you agree to help NBPC have an impact improving in the areas of economics, education, and racial justice helping to increase participation in the life of the whole church; and strengthening your influence through all levels of the PC(USA) to encourage denominational actions that benefit your Presbyteries, congregations, and ministries.

Your membership and active participation will help NBPC to move forward and focus on what is important to you and will guide efforts to direct resources toward addressing your needs and concerns.

It is time to thrive! Take your advocacy one step further. Please complete the membership form on line at <https://tinyurl.com/NBPCMembership-Form/> or return it with your payment to the NBPC National Office:
